

The Rex Wailes Collection

Gems of the Rex Wailes Collection

by Nathanael Hodge, Rex Wailes Collection, Mills Archive, UK

This is the final article of the Rex Wailes column, hope all our readers enjoyed it. We will begin the new series 'Gems of Mills Archive' in the next edition.

Went's Mill, Peldon, the Mill House after the Colchester Earthquake, 1884. Given to Rex Wailes in 1956 by Mrs E Went. The school boy with the black armband was her husband. His father had died shortly before and his brother (next to him) was running the business

Photographic collage depicting cross section of a windmill

Rex's daughter Ursula Wailes at Jill Mill, Clayton, Sussex

Drawing of 'Mill near Portsmouth' by Wellington Drummond, 1829

Collapse of Rash's Mill, Wortham, Suffolk