Fallgate Mill, Derbyshire at Ashover, south west of Chesterfield

This is one of the best results from 'cold-calling' that Keith and I have ever achieved. The new owners, Ruth and Michael Philbin, moved in about 2 days before our visit in September. They are the first residents of this converted corn mill, and are only just beginning to find out what they have got, although Michael was attracted to the building many years ago, and has therefore now fulfilled a dream.
