

Illustrated Flour Mill Billheads - continued - Nigel Harris

This article first appeared in the January 2014 edition of the SPAB Mill News

In the previous Newsletter, Nigel said "An interesting collectable of milling history is the illustrated company stationery of flour mills, and in particular billheads. Billheads were commonly used on receipts in business transactions from late 1860's onwards. Many were illustrated and decorated with fancy steel engravings". More examples from his collections are shown here

Walmsley & Smith Flour Mills

The mills were located beside Devonshire Dock at Barrow-in-Furness, but they were demolished some years ago. Note the circular grain silos and also the submarine in the foreground. This billhead is dated 1932.

Monks Mill

The firm of E.H. Monks of Wallgate were located in Chapel Lane, Wigan. They were grocers, corn millers and merchants.

Leith Flour Mills

Located in Commercial Street, Edinburgh. The original mills were burnt down in 1874 and rebuilt. In 1882 roller mills were installed.
